

The International Accounting Bulletin Industry Forum & Awards 2014

Holborn Bars, London, UK | 16 September 2014

The International Accounting Bulletin Industry Forum and Awards 2014 brings together international accounting networks and associations, professional body experts, regulators and legal experts for a discussion of the key issues facing the industry. Leading sector thinkers and doers will meet to debate the strategies and share their business practices aimed at meeting the challenges of the recent M&A trend, cyber security threats and retaining resilience on an international basis. The informative and inspiring panel discussions and roundtable provide the setting for you to join other high-profile event guests in engaging conversations.

C-level speakers will look at the reasons, risks, challenges and opportunities of the recent industry wide M&A trend and its implications in the first expert panel discussion. Followed by a session on cyber security where a panel of experts will share their views on cyber threats for accounting firms and how to turn them into business advantages. In addition, a roundtable discussion led by Aon provides space for a top-level conversation and asks important questions about tackling global risk and resilience in the international network. How can the global accounting network and association executives leverage themselves for success in global markets and achieve a higher profile with international clients?

The industry forum invites speakers, participants and partners to consider and find practical solutions to the most pressing industry questions:

- How is regulation driving the change in the industry practices?
- How are industry leaders tackling new challenges in the converging market conditions?
- How to meet the demands of an ever expanding cyber space
- How to collaborate with international partners to tackle cyber threats
- How to transform and strengthen your practice in the face of consolidation
- How to run a sustainable and profitable accounting practice in changing economic conditions

The International Accounting Bulletin Industry Forum and Awards 2014 leverages the expertise across the Progressive Digital Media research and publishing portfolio, including International Accounting Bulletin, The Accountant and Accountancy Asia. The event is an opportunity to share ideas, discover trends and network with peers across the accounting industry, while enjoying exclusive research and case studies delivered by industry thought leaders.
